

AFRICANA STUDIES

Presents

Thursday, November 11, 2010

Black Women in the Ivory Tower: Histories of Identity in Higher Education

3:30 P.M.

African Americans in Paris: Global Dimensions of Black Scholarship

7:00 P.M.

College of Arts and Sciences Gallery and Conference Center at the Wesley Foundation 1210 Stanford Drive, Coral Gables, Florida 33146-2004

Dr. Stephanie Y. Evans is Director of African American Studies and Colonel Allan and Margaret Crow Term Professor for the UF College of Liberal Arts and Sciences(2010-11) at the University of Florida in Gainesville. She is Associate Professor in African American Studies and Women's Studies and author of the book Black Women in the Ivory Tower, 1850-1954: An Intellectual History (2007). She is a first generation college student and began the NIA Statement of Purpose Project, an online resource for high school and college students in order to mentor the next generation of scholars and provide youth to develop their "backbone, jawbone, and wishbone." Diverse Issues in Higher Education chose Dr. Evans as one of 12 'Emerging Scholars for 2010' in the nation who have contributed much to their field. Dr. Evans has authored articles in journals such as Frontiers: The Interdisciplinary Journal of Study Abroad, African American Research Perspectives, Black Women Gender and Families, Florida Historical Quarterly, Thought and Action, International Journal of the Humanities, The Griot, and Feminist Teacher. In May 2003, she received her Ph.D. in African American Studies with a concentration in History and Politics from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst and in May 2002 earned a Master's Degree in the same field. Also in 2002, she completed the Graduate Certificate Program in Advanced Feminist Studies.

