Understanding Zionism Through its Music - A Century of Israeli Music

By examining the music and culture of the people, this lecture presents a picture of life in Palestine from the first Aliyah through the founding of the state and ending with mainstream culture in Israel in the present day. The lecture touches upon styles and genres of music as a representation of changes in demographics, historical context and Zionist endeavors. In addition, the presentation examines the lyrics of several songwriters who memorialized key events in Israel's history and shaped the nation's heritage. The lecture is a multimedia experience of Israeli life throughout the decades, celebrating the struggles and victories of the people searching for, and developing their Israeli identity.
