The Miami-Florida European Union Center of Excellence, a partnership with Florida International University, and the Jean Monnet Chair of the University of Miami, cordially invite you to a special guest lecture:

“The obstacles of the EU’s Association Agreement with MERCOSUR”

When: Monday, March 18, 2013, 5.00-6.00pm
Where: Ferré 126, University of Miami

Roberto Bouzas
Jean Monnet Professor, Universidad de San Andrés, Buenos Aires, Argentina

Roberto Bouzas is an economist holding degrees from the University of Buenos Aires (Argentina) and Cambridge University (UK). He is Professor at Universidad de San Andrés and Senior Research Fellow at the National Scientific and Technical Research Board (CONICET). Roberto Bouzas is the Academic Director of the Universidad de San Andrés-FLACSO-Universidad de Barcelona joint MPhil program in International Relations and Negotiations. He also teaches at the University of Buenos Aires and the National School of Foreign Service. Former Deputy Director of the Institute of US Studies at CIDE (México), he was visiting professor at Duke University, Notre Dame University, Stanford University, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro and Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio de Janeiro. Professor Bouzas has been a consultant to the Economic Commission on Latin America and the Caribbean, the United Nations Development Program, the Inter-American Development Bank and Argentina’s Ministry of the Economy and Ministry of Foreign Relations and International Trade. Roberto Bouzas has published extensively on international trade, regional integration and the Argentine economy and economic policy. Since 1993 Professor Bouzas collaborates with The Economist Intelligence Unit on its reports on Argentina. Roberto Bouzas is a member of the Editorial Board of Desarrollo Económico (Argentina) and Nexos (México) and a member of the Argentine Council for International Relations (CARI).