Latin America and the Caribbean: Times of Development, Resistance, and Change

THE 14th ANNUAL SOUTH FLORIDA LATIN AMERICAN AND CARIBBEAN STUDIES GRADUATE STUDENT CONFERENCE

April 22, 2016
Hosted by the University of Miami
Coral Gables, FL

The Annual South Florida Latin American and Caribbean Studies Graduate Student Conference brings together emerging student scholars working on innovative, strategic, and transformative research across the Americas. This gathering builds on collaborative efforts among the University of Miami, Florida International University, and Florida Atlantic University. The 2016 conference will focus on human and economic development, political and social change, and dynamics of resistance in the region’s past and present.

Participation is open to all disciplines and graduate students at all levels. Please submit an abstract of 500 words or less to sfconference2016@gmail.com by March 7, 2016. Please include the following information: name of the author(s) of the paper; title of the paper or panel proposed; discipline or area of specialization; email and/or telephone; and school affiliation.

NOTE: All selected papers will require participants to register for this event. There is no charge for registration, and more information about this process will be given after submission.

The top three papers will receive cash prizes.

For additional information or inquiries, please email sfconference2016@gmail.com

Over the Christmas vacation, the LAS office moved from its former location at 125 Dooley Memorial to its new home, 214 Merrick Building. Our current graduate assistant Grace Slawski has regular hours Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30-3:30, so visit her if you have any questions about the program. You can also still meet with Dr. Fuller, although he will be taking appointments at his office in the Campo Sano building during his scheduled office hours on Monday afternoons. Please contact Glenneka Durand at g.durand@miami.edu if you’d wish to make an appointment with Dr. Fuller.

On January 20th, the LAS program was featured at the spring study abroad fair encouraging students to attend the U Buenos Aires program. By participating in the semester-long study abroad program you can earn a minor in LAS!
