Morocco, a country uniquely located at a cultural crossroads between Europe, Africa, and the Middle East, is widely known for its cuisine and cultural diversity. The ethnic, linguistic, and religious diversity of the country sets the stage for a unique learning experience. So come explore the cultural history of Morocco while indulging in local literature, art, architecture, and music.

JUNE • 2-17 • 2018  ARB 310 (3 CREDITS)  COST: $10,743

There are no prerequisites and students do not need to know Arabic in order to enroll. ARB 310 (3 credits) is a cultural history of Morocco course taught in English. This course seeks to give students an understanding of how Moroccans see their heritage, their present, and their future by exploring Morocco's literature, art, history, and socio-political issues. Students are based in Rabat and go on excursions to Fez, Marrakech, the ancient village of Ait Ben-Haddou, and the Fint Oasis.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: MARCH 1

For more information, please contact Dr. Christina Civantos at ccivantos@miami.edu or Dr. Nadia Naami at n.naami@umiami.edu