RELIGION AND HEALTH CARE TRACK

The Religious Studies Department offers major and minor tracks in Religion and Health Care for students who are interested in any aspect of health care or who would like to supplement their Pre-Medical concentration with coursework in the field of Religious Studies.

The Religion and Health Care major consists of a minimum of 8 courses. Students must pick four Religion and Health Care courses and are required to take the following: REL 101 or REL 102 or REL 103; REL 499; one course from Area 1, and one course from Area 2. At least 12 credits must be earned in courses numbered 300 or above. Majors may choose one course from another department (CLA 223, HIS 223, or other approved course by the director of the Religion and Health Care Track) to fulfill the major requirements.

The Religion and Health Care Minor of 12 credits consists of the following: REL 101 or REL 102 or REL 103; two Religion and Health Care courses; and one of the following: REL 499, or an Area 1 course, or an Area 2 course. At least 3 credits must be earned in courses numbered 300 or above.
