

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES – INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL AWARD

UPDATED

June 2019

The College will continue to provide funding to faculty for travel to international conferences to present their work. Faculty members may request up to $1,500 for travel outside of the United States, including Europe, Asia, Australia, the Pacific Islands (not including Hawaii), and South America -- from June 1, 2019 through May 31, 2020. The College no longer provides awards for travel to the Caribbean, Mexico, Canada and Mesoamerica. Please keep in mind that there is limited funding and while the College would like to support every faculty member, we ask Chairs to be selective in their recommendations. Funds may be requested throughout the fiscal year.

Requests should include title of the presentation, information about the conference and sponsoring organization, endorsement from your chair, and a brief budget. Approved funds may be used to supplement funding provided by your department. In order to make these funds available to the greatest number of faculty, more than one request per person will not be considered. Requests for travel funding for the next fiscal year may have to be deferred.

Please submit requests to the attention of Maria Galli Stampino, Senior Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs and College Diversity, at mgstampino@miami.edu.
